GOP TAKES UP CHALLENGE OF MISSOURIAN

Challenging the integrity of Massachusetts election officials, Richard R. Ney of Missouri, secretary assistant to the National Republican Committee Chairman Robert E. Hannegan, has attacked Republican State Chairman Archibald R. Curran as apparently a mere political capitol of the state's hundreds of local officials.

Curran, however, attending a group of people, has pointed out in many of the political campaigns and that they are not interested in allowing the election to be won by the people.

Curran, a former politician in Louisiana, thinks it is a very strange attitude for the Governor of the Commonwealth to have taken to the people.

—The Fireside group of the Forest Street Congregational Church held a supper on Thursday evening, July 25 at the church. The proceeds were to be used to pay off the church debt, and a fine attendance was reported.

—The Silver Lake Retirement Association held a penny sale in their hall on Friday, July 26, under the able direction of the chairman, Mrs. Harry Brennan, and report a very successful affair.

—At last week's meeting of the Silver Lake Retirement hall with the president, Henry J. Porter, in charge, a committee of three, including Fred Cain, Algeo Caterman, and Henry J. Porter, was named to accompany the Boston development committee on a last minute improvement of the Boston part facilities. The committee report that there is urgent need of improved dock facilities to make it profitable for boats to unload their cargoes in Boston, and stated that if the Boston port were adequately developed, it would be greatly beneficial commercially to all New England. The consensus of opinion is that the Rotary development committee will wholeheartedly support such a project.
